Stratton Signs Traffic Safety Bill

Approves Reform Measure

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Gov. Stratton's traffic safety program "to wipe the blood from our streets and highways" was signed into law Tuesday.

The bills call for doubling the 500-man state police force, setting up chemical tests for drunken drivers, and providing for driver education at the high school level. The driver classes will be paid for through an increase from $1 to $3 in the three-year drivers' license fee.

Stratton earlier approved establishment of statewide speed limits which took effect last week. The bulk of the program was contained in the package signed Tuesday.

Stratton also approved a Hodge reform measure, an increase in tax rates for unit school districts, and modifications to the contour splash guard law.

Auditor General
One measure sets up the post of auditor general to head a department of audits, whose job it will be to check on expenditures of state money. The auditor general will be appointed by the governor for a six-year term at a salary of $14,000 a year. His department will submit reports to the Budgetary Commission, a legislative agency, and will itself be audited by another legislative body.

The reorganization stems from recommendations contained in the Morey-Jenner report, which forced weak spots in the state fiscal set up that led to a raid on the State Treasury by former Auditor Orville Hodge.

Tax Hike
Approval of the tax hike measure will permit school districts to raise their current educational rate by 25 cents for every $100 in property evaluation and their building rate by 64 cents. The boosts would go before a referendum vote at the request of 10 percent or 1,500 of the district's voters.

Contour Splash Guards

British Cruiser Still Grounded

HAMILTON, Bermuda, (P)—The 538 passengers aboard the British cruise ship Reina del Pacifico resigned themselves Tuesday to spending another night in the embrace of Devil's Flat.

The 17,872-ton vessel's cargo was being unloaded for a supreme effort to bring her off Devil's Flat, a coral reef off Bermuda. The ship ran aground Monday.

Passengers joined some of the crew of 900 in fishing for sharks off the stern. Other passengers jolled on the sun deck.

Two tugs tried to pull the ship off Monday but could not budge her.

The ship was considered in no danger.

House Gives Soil Bank Another Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Tuesday reversed its stand of two months ago and voted to continue the Eisenhower administration's soil bank farm program for one more year. There wasn't even a fight about it.

The switch came on a voice vote which passed and sent to the Senate the annual agriculture appropriations bill. Senate approval seems certain.

On May 15 the House voted 192-167 to kill the major part of the soil bank plan at the end of this year. Critics charged it was marked by waste and mismanagement. Supporters argued it went into effect so late in the spring of 1956 it hadn't been given a fair trial.

The Senate balked at this House action and voted funds to continue full operation of the soil bank. A Senate-House conference committee then drafted a compromise bill, including the soil bank money which was voted on Tuesday.

As passed by the House, the bill gives the Agriculture Department some 3 1/2 billion dollars for the fiscal year which began July 1. This was some 365 million dollars less than President Eisenhower had requested and nearly 100 millions less than the House voted originally.

The section of the soil bank involved in the House reversal was the acreage reserve feature. Under this farmers are paid for taking out of production land which has been used to grow basic crops in surplus supply.

The House originally voted nothing for this plan while the Senate voted 500 million dollars. The Senate figure was accepted in the compromise.

Some changes in the soil bank would be ordered by the compromise measure. One would limit to $3,000 the amount of soil bank payments that could be made to any one farmer during 1958. Another would require that all benefits be paid by Sept. 15.

Committee Okays Bill To Ease Gas Controls

WASHINGTON (P)—A bill to ease federal regulation of prices charged by natural gas producers was approved Tuesday by the House Commerce Committee. The ultimate fate of the controversial measure remains a question.

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) told newsmen he believes the bill has a good chance of House passage this year, if everyone who has voted support for the bill "puts their ear in."

There was considerable doubt, however, that the Senate would get to the bill this session, what with the developing marathon debate on civil rights legislation.

The Commerce Committee voted 15-13 to recommend the bill. Once its reports are drafted, it will ask the Rules Committee to clear the measure for floor action. Further opposition is expected within the rules group.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark.) of the Commerce Committee wrote the bill, which would free natural gas producers from utility-type regulation by the Federal Power Commission.

Producers still would be subject to rate regulation, but on a "reasonable market value" basis rather than under the cost plus a reasonable profit formula applied to utilities.

Charge Worker In Voodoo Killing Of Neighbor Boy

VINELAND, N.J. (P)—Juan Rivera Aponte, a farm worker, stood meekly in court Tuesday in a tongue he scarcely understood, heard himself accused of killing a boy to use his skull for a voodoo love potion.

After hearing an interpreter translate the charge, Aponte, a native of Puerto Rico, nodded his head and said "okay," one of the few English words he knows.

Last week police thought they had broken the disappearance of 13-year-old Roger Carletto, missing since Oct. 13. Aponte had led the police to a shallow grave on the farm of Idek Rosenblum where a headless skeleton was found.

Aponte, 45, who worked for Rosenblum, accused his employer of killing the boy, who lived nearby. Rosenblum was charged with the murder but then Aponte Monday gave police another story.

Public Safety Director Arthur L. Joseph said Carletto had visited Aponte in his shack Oct. 13, just after Aponte had read in a book on black magic about the use of skulls in love potions.

Aponte knocked the boy out with his fist, strangled him and then placed the body in the grave, Joseph said. Three times a day for seven months he watered the grave and then uncovered the body to cut off the top of the skull, Joseph related.

In his shack police found numerous publications about black magic and hanging from a string in a kerosene stove was the top part of a skull.

After Aponte signed a statement Joseph said Rosenblum was completely exonerated.

EUROPE'S DEATH TOLL RISES TO 399

ROME (P)—The dead from Europe's week-long heat wave totaled 339 Tuesday. Sunny Italy paid the heaviest toll.

Cool winds relieved parts of northern Europe. In Finland and Sweden there was frost and snow. But throughout the Italian peninsula searing heat was blamed for the death of at least 147 persons since Sunday. Of the dead, 95 were inmates of old people's homes in Milan, Venice and Padua.

Temperatures hovered at 100 degrees or higher. Fires damaged crops in the baked fields and steaming granaries of South Italy.

Russell Protests Nixon's Civil Rights Bill Ruling

END OF THE LINE—A partially submerged bus in Detroit, Mich., forces passengers to leave by raft when up to five inches of rain flooded streets with more than five feet of water. About 100,000 autos were stalled or stranded by the deluge. Passengers at the right are standing on the bed of a flat truck which served as a waiting station for a police-run ferry.

Prepare To Expel Malenkov, Kaganovich, Molotov From Party

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government's official newspaper Tuesday cleared the way for the expulsion of V. M. Molotov, Georgi Malenkov and Lazar Kaganovich from the Communist party.

In a major editorial, the government newspaper Izvestia again invoked Lenin's 1921 injunction that in cases of violation of party discipline the Central Committee is empowered to use extreme measures, including expulsion.

Without party membership, a Soviet citizen cannot participate in any significant government or party activity. Expulsion amounts to political annihilation.

Molotov, Malenkov, and Kaganovich, have been ousted from the party's ruling Presidium by a unanimous vote of the Central Committee.

The Central Committee's announcement July 3 referred to the 1921 Lenin credo on discipline. Tuesday's underscoring left little doubt that the minimum fee facing the Stalinist triumvirate is expulsion from the party.

Whether the party leaders headed by Nikita Khrushchev, will be satisfied with the political destruction of their opponents remains to be seen.

Molotov, Malenkov and Kaganovich so far have been stripped of their high party and government posts but not dismissed from the ranks of the party itself. Molotov is a former premier and foreign minister. Malenkov succeeded Stalin as premier. Kaganovich has held top industrial expert assignments.

The three have not been seen publicly in Moscow this week. Moscow radio said last week they attended party meetings on Friday—two days after the action against them was announced.

The campaign of denunciation against the ousted Kremlin leaders expanded Tuesday as Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin and Khrushchev, victors in the upheaval.

Israeli, Syrian Forces Clash

JERUSALEM, Israeli Sector (P)—Israeli and Syrian forces battled with rifle, machinegun and mortar fire for 10 hours Tuesday along the borders of the upper Jordan River.

Israeli sources said a shepherd was killed and seven Israeli police were wounded. A U. N. spokesman said there also were casualties on the Syrian side. The number was not estimated.

The firing halted after the U. N. had issued four cease-fire orders. Israeli charged the clash came after Syrians opened fire on the Godot settlement and on Israeli vehicles traveling north to the Sea of Galilee. It was the latest of a series of clashes that began in June.

DAMASCUS, (P)—A Syrian army spokesman said Tuesday night two Arab women and two children were wounded in a clash Tuesday on the Syrian-Israeli frontier. He said there were no Syrian army casualties.

Report Ike Receptive To Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), challenged Tuesday a ruling by Vice President Nixon that the Senate is debating the correct version of a civil rights bill passed by the House.

After the House passed the bill, a clerical error was made in printing the bill. An amendment was placed on the wrong page, and this erroneous version reached the Senate side of the Capitol.

But Nixon ruled that the mistake had now been corrected in a routine way and there was no need to send the bill back to the House.

At first Russell said he would appeal Nixon's ruling to the Senate itself and demand a roll call vote, but later he withdrew his point of order against the ruling.

Russell explained he knew "the Knowland-Douglas axis" had the votes to prevail in the present situation. He said he would wait for "a calmer day" to settle the issue, which is intertwined with the Senate rules.

Knowland-Douglas Axis
By the "Knowland-Douglas axis" Russell meant the supporters of Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate's Republican leader, and Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.)

Knowland and Douglas have joined forces to push for passage of the civil rights bill.

Russell's protest topped an afternoon in which Southern senators launched a fresh attack on the bill—legislation which threatens to involve the Senate in eight weeks or more of clashing debate.

Objections
Sen. Ervin (D-N.C.) asserted the bill would make the U. S. attorney general "dictator of all the Southern States," while Sen. Eastland (D-Miss.) described the measure as "a slick, devious scheme to bypass the Bill of Rights."

The Senate recessed for the day at 6:15 p.m.

Four Killed, Two From Illinois, In Crash In Texas

BELTON, Tex. (P)—Four persons were killed and one injured in a head-on collision of two cars two miles south of here on U.S. 81 about 9:45 a.m. Tuesday.

The dead were tentatively identified as Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Fulton of Grand Prairie, Tex., and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Reddick of 1029 Jackson St., Quincy, Ill.

Injured was Miss Jeanette Holm, 16, of 1011 Adams St., Quincy, Ill.

The Fultons and Mrs. Reddick died shortly afterward at a Belton Hospital.

State highway patrolman Curtis Lipscomb said the accident happened on an open road about 600 feet north of the Lampasas River bridge. He said the cars met almost head-to-head and he was not certain which direction each auto was traveling.

Miss Holm is in Sewell Hospital here with head injuries. Her condition was not considered critical. Lipscomb said the girl told him the Reddicks were her aunt and uncle.

Father Says Desperate Need Of Money Led To Robbery

INDEPENDENCE, Kan. (P)—"I was deep in debt. I needed money desperately," the father of two teen-aged sons said.

Alfred Wesley Ratzliff, 38, a Wichita welder, was held Tuesday on charges of robbing a small town Kansas bank of $3,950 Monday.

"My creditors kept after me, and I didn't have the money to pay them. All I could see was my kids. I knew I had to do something. Something went through my mind. I had to get some money or die. And I didn't exactly want to die. We always lived good and were a nice family. I feel so sorry for the boys. That's the hard part of it. What you do you can't undo."

Ratzliff was arrested on a bus here by the FBI Monday night. His sack were so handy."

The pistol he used, Ratzliff said, was an old .22 caliber gun "that wouldn't hardly shoot" and the sack for the money was left over from a family picnic Sunday.

"Something just seemed to push me," he said. "The gun and the sack were so handy."

Brain Power

We've all been hearing for a long time now about America's shortage of engineers, scientists, teachers and other trained specialists. But perhaps most of us have tended to think of each kind of shortage as an individual, isolated problem.

It remained for the magazine Business Week, in a recent issue, to draw the strands together and show convincingly that we are suffering a general shortage of brainpower which is getting more acute by the day.

We live in an age where attention is given more and more to the automatic operation of industry. Increasingly, mechanical tasks are performed and controlled in the factory by automatic machinery. Electronic computers, communicators and other devices do "brain work" at a mounting pace.

But, as Business Week astutely observed, this is not having the effect of eliminating the need for brains or of spawning a race of robots. On the contrary, it has created a greater demand for brainpower than ever in the nation's history.

For as machinery becomes more complex, as science advances in its applications to industry, men of high intelligence are required as never before to manage and coordinate operations.

The magazine found that representative industrial concerns are leaning far more heavily than formerly upon people of educated intelligence. They are pulling in college graduates at rates five, 10 and 20 times that which prevailed two decades ago.

As industry is compelled to rely on smarter, better-trained people, so too is government, including the now highly mechanized armed forces. And by the same token so must our schools and colleges find more and better teachers to train young Americans to take their places in so demanding a society.

What is happening, said Business Week, is a massive upgrading of the skills required of our whole labor force. The spotlight henceforth will be on those among us who are capable of exercising judgment, imagination and the other high faculties of intelligence.

As an important sign of this trend, the U.S. Labor Department reports that in 1957 for the first time white-collar workers outnumber blue-collar workers in the working force. And the department forecasts that in the next eight years the fastest employment growth will be among professionally trained people. Laborers and farmers will either hold even or decline in numbers.

The marks are clear. American industrial society is switching from brawn to brains even as it reduces more and more work to the automatic level. The big question we face is not whether machines will outdate the human brain. They will not. The question is whether we can find and develop the brains we need to keep our fantastic industrial and governmental mechanism steadily moving toward the higher levels of living it promises for us all.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

ALCOA, Tenn. (AP)—William Andrew Nicholson is an 80-year-old carpenter who built an everlasting home because he confidently expects to live forever.

It is a fortress-like stone dwelling of 14 rooms and was hand-built by Nicholson and his wife over an eight-year period. It is known locally as "millennium man" and "the house that faith built."

"It cannot rust or rot," said Nicholson, whose keen blue eyes and white hair make him look like a patriarch in a striped sport shirt, and if nothing wrecks it there is no reason why it shouldn't last a million years. And Nicholson himself is serene, certain that a million years from now he will be happy, alive and content with his house and lot.

His reason is simple. He loves Jesus Christ, and he accepts as a statement of literal fact that Biblical promise that whosoever loves Christ will have everlasting life.

"I believe in the Bible, and I believe in life," he said. "I believe in preparing to live instead of preparing to die."

So it was that in 1938 the kindly carpenter and his wife, who had borne him 16 children, began at the age of 61 to build an eternal shelter for an eternal life on earth.

There was to go into it nothing that could corrode or decay—neither wood nor nail. Only cement, rock and Tennessee pink marble.

Nicholson worked eight hours a day at his trade, then worked six to eight hours more on his home. He pushed 300-pound marble stones to their place in a wheelbarrow. His wife poured the mortar. The job took them eight long, exhausting years.

The house, completed in December, 1946, is two stories tall. Its outside walls are from two to three feet thick, its ceiling three to five feet. It has two bathrooms furnished with huge stone and cement chairs. The roof alone contains 432 tons of rock.

Six years ago Mrs. Nicholson died of cancer, leaving her husband lonely but still sure he himself will enjoy eternal life.

"It was hard to be parted from her after so many years," he said. "My wife believed in me, but her faith in eternal life was weak. She tried to believe, but she had her doubts. There came times when she talked of dying."

Nicholson's unusual home has become something of a tourist attraction. He says he has been offered $150,000 for it, but has no intention of selling.

"What would I want with the money?" he asked. "I have very little I need."

"I haven't been sick for 40 years. I don't worry about the atomic bomb or anything else. I let nothing bother me."

"I keep healthy by serving God the best I know how. I don't go to church. I used to belong to a church, but got out. They didn't like my views."

One of Nicholson's views that have led some of his neighbors to regard him as eccentric is his conviction that the world will be destroyed soon (probably by 1959), but that 144,000 righteous, including himself, will be saved.

However long he lives himself, the rugged, picturesque home he built stands as a temple of love—a poor man's pyramid—the testimony in stone of a mighty faith that stirred a simple heart to a dream of timeless grandeur.

Thinking It Over—

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

(Written for NEA Service)

WILD life in America is protected by laws and public pressure. Before this protection was established, some species of our American animals became almost extinct. The great egret and the buffalo were being killed by selfish, thoughtless people at a rate so high they became curiosities.

Since these birds and animals are being protected, their population has increased by the hundreds. They can now be seen living in full freedom in many unexpected places.

Some birds and beasts, and some people, need protection not only from ravages of hunters but also from themselves. We should not expect all of this protection to come from law. Most of it ought to come from self-control and from our own desire to be considerate of others.

Algerian Fight Is Sen. Kennedy's No. 1 Cause

BY PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Senator John Fitzgerald Kennedy of Massachusetts—who now admits he would accept a Democratic nomination for the presidency if it were offered to him—has seized on the Algerian struggle for independence from France as his No. 1 cause.

Later on, he said in what he obviously intended to be a major foreign policy speech in the Senate, he will take up the cause of more aid to Poland.

The Algerian revolution has been going on for the better part of 10 years. It is a fight about which most Americans know little and care less. Vaguely, there is some knowledge that the United States maintains an air base in Algeria—or some place in North Africa. But that's about all.

The official American policy under both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations has encouraged this indifference. The line has been that Algeria was a part of France and therefore trouble there was an internal matter for the French to settle.

BUT NOW along comes the junior senator from Massachusetts to demand that the United States change this policy. Sen. Kennedy even introduced a resolution authorizing the President and secretary of state "to achieve a solution which will recognize the independent personality of Algeria and establish a basis for a settlement independent with France."

This marks Sen. Kennedy as a courageous, original thinker on foreign policy. It also throws a tough challenge to President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles. It is not an endorsement of bipartisan foreign policy.

The senator likewise has a few criticisms for other bigwigs in the Republican administration for their stands.

He criticizes Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge for having opposed United Nations' consideration of the Algerian question three times in the past.

He criticizes Douglas Dillon, former U.S. ambassador to France, now undersecretary of state, for having declared, "The United States stands solemnly behind France in her search for a liberal, equitable solution of the problems in Algeria."

WASHINGTON (AP)—This is an ABC on the Southern filibuster shaping up in the Senate against the civil rights bill which the Eisenhower administration says is intended to protect Negroes' voting rights in the South.

Southerners say it is so "cunningly" written it could be used to force racial integration. A filibuster's purpose is to prevent passage of a bill by talking against it until its supporters give up.

Southerners can make two filibusters: (1) against a motion to bring up the bill and, if they lose on this, then (2) against the bill itself. They will probably make their main pitch on the second. It's less exhausting.

There are two ways to break a filibuster:

1. By keeping the Senate in session around the clock until the Southerners are worn out. They could keep going for months if they were allowed to go home every night at 5 o'clock.

2. By invoking cloture, which means voting to shut off debate. This can be done only on a two-thirds vote of the full Senate: 64 of the 96 members. It's hard to get. Some of those outside the South may want to filibuster someday.

For perhaps a week, as a warm-up, Southerners may filibuster against a motion to bring up the bill. You can see why this, if the Southerners tried to go all-out, is exhausting.

On a filibuster against a motion each senator is limited to two speeches. About 20 Southerners are expected to take part in the filibuster. If they wanted to talk against the motion itself for weeks then—

Each in turn would have to talk until he was literally ready to drop, not once but twice. And all the time he talked a senator would have to be on his feet. If he sat down to rest he'd lose the floor and his speech would be over.

If the Southerners try a full-blown filibuster against the motion, Sen. Knowland of California, Senate Republican leader, may try to kill it by wearing them out in around-the-clock session.

He could probably force such a session, since it requires only a majority vote and not the hard-to-get two-thirds vote which is necessary to shut off debate.

If, under the punishing pressure of endless sessions, the Southerners abandoned their fight against the motion to bring up the bill, then the bill itself would be up for debate.

A brand new filibuster—this time against the bill itself—could start. From a physical standpoint this could be easier on the Southerners for a number of reasons.

Any senator could offer as many amendments to the bill as he wished. Each amendment is debatable. And each senator is allowed two speeches on each amendment.

The amendments don't have to be germane—that is, they don't have to deal with civil rights. But the Southerners will probably offer germane amendments, dozens of them.

They want the bill killed. Failing that, they want it so amended it will have no teeth and be practically meaningless. Supporters of the bill couldn't hope to shut off debate on a single amendment merely by a motion to do so.

Debate on an amendment can't be stopped except by unanimous consent. One Southern "no" would finish such a move. But there is another way to end debate on an amendment: that's through a motion to table it, or shove it aside.

That requires a simple majority vote. Before there could be a vote, a quorum of senators would have to be present. A quorum is 48. So there'd have to be a quorum call. Senators could use up a couple of hours drifting in to answer this call. More time would be used in voting.

So it could go on: an amendment offered; many speeches, lasting for hours or days on each amendment; a motion to table; a quorum call; a vote; a new amendment offered; new debate for hours; and on and on.

Through all this the Southerners would have many rest periods. Then how could the filibuster be ended?

By passing the kind of bill that satisfied the Southerners—that is, one so thoroughly amended as to be toothless—or by around-the-clock sessions; or by that hard-to-come-by 64 votes for cloture.

Adhesions Symptoms Felt

By Astonishing Number

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Written for NEA Service

Judging by correspondence addressed to this column it is astonishing how many people are troubled by adhesions, or think they are.

It certainly is possible for adhesions (particularly in the abdominal cavity) to cause symptoms. However, if a person has vague symptoms it is too easy to feel that they are the result of adhesions.

They appear as slightly elastic fibers under the microscope. This is called fibrous tissue and the body tends to respond to any infection or injury by forming it. This response is not related to the particular nature of the damage, but is merely nature's attempt to heal.

If a patient has acute appendicitis and the appendix has ruptured, spilling the infection into the surrounding tissue, adhesions will often form. Other internal infections may also be followed by the formation of adhesions.

ADHESIONS may or may not produce complications later on. The fibrous tissue has a tendency to contract. Thus if adhesions have formed around a loop of the intestines, they may draw tighter and tighter, preventing the free flow of intestinal contents. This, in turn, can produce trouble and may require an operation to cut these bands of fibrous tissue and free the partly strangling intestine.

What to do for adhesions depends on where the adhesions are located, what a normal structure of the body they surround and what this contraction is doing to the organs involved.

FOR SOME obscure reason some people tend to develop adhesions more easily than others. This raises a difficult problem because in such people new adhesions are likely to form even after old ones have been cut out.

The question is often raised as to whether there is any medicine which can be taken by mouth or injected which will dissolve the adhesions without resort to surgery. Unfortunately, this cannot be done. If the symptoms produced by adhesions are severe enough to require treatment the only thing which can be done is surgery.

THE OTHER question which quite commonly arises in connection with adhesions is whether they can turn into cancer. The tissue which goes to make up adhesions rarely, if ever, becomes cancerous.

But one must always be as certain as one can be that any symptoms which are being blamed on adhesions are really the result of their action rather than the result of some hidden cancer.

With some women, if the shoe fits they take it off and order a smaller one.

Bible School At Woodson Serves Three Churches

Three churches participated in the Vacation Bible School at Woodson, June 17 through the 28th. Woodson Christian, Woodson Presbyterian and the Asbury Methodist. Each afternoon found an average of 70 children and instructors attending.

A program was given Friday evening, June 28, concluding the term. The students marched in singing, "Onward Christian Soldiers." Flag bearers were Ron-ald Splain and Frank J. Wild-hagen. Shirley J. Orris carried the Bible. Pledges were given to the flags and the Bible, and the children sang two of their opening songs.

N. H. Crain led the group in prayer. The program was presented under supervision of Mrs. Russell Hicks and Mrs. Marvin Wildhager, nursery; Mrs. Don Cully and Miss Ruth Bohen, be-ginners; first graders, Mrs. Arle Vanderhorst; second and third graders, Mrs. Fred Stewart. Mrs. William Gibson and Mrs. Thomas Irlam; junior class, Mrs. Dean Allen and teenagers, Mrs. Gene Ashbaker.

Mrs. Gene Cully, song leader, favored the group with a solo. The children sang their closing song, "Teach Me Lord to Pray." David Reynolds led in the closing prayer.

Those attending were invited to visit each of the departments and inspect the handiwork accom-plished by the children. Mrs. Joe Stuhling was superintendent, as-sisted by Mrs. Dean Allen, Mrs. Grace Brandon, pianist assisted by Mrs. Eva Wilson. Mrs. Harold Sooy served as the secretary.

T. H. Robson Will Filed For Probate

The last will of Thomas H. Robson has been filed for probate in the office of County Clerk George T. Douglas.

It directs that all debts and fu-nal expenses be promptly paid and a suitable marker be erected at the grave. All remaining prop-erty is to be converted into cash and shared equally by the surviv-ing sister and brothers: Etta M. Robson Hough, Carl C. Robson, Roy L. Robson, Morris R. Robson and C. Otto Robson.

Roy L. Robson was named ex-ecutor of the will.

The document was dated June 7, 1957, and was witnessed by Orville N. Foreman, Albert W. Hall and Helen C. Foreman.

Palmyra's Terry Park Fair Opens July 14th

PALMYRA—The annual Terry Park Industrial Fair at Palmyra opens Sunday, July 14 and lasts through Thursday, the 18th. The five day fair is sponsored by the Terry Park Community club and will include a full five days of high class entertainment with the Gem City Shows furnishing rides, concessions and attractions.

All receipts from the celebra-tion are used for the upkeep of Terry Park, located a mile east and one-half mile north of Palmyra.

Sunday's program gets under-way with a 2:30 matinee of the McKinley Rodeo and Wildwest Show, which is scheduled again at 8 o'clock in the evening.

The midway opens at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, July 15, and a band concert is scheduled at 8 that evening. The Midway opens each succeeding day through Thursday at 2 p.m.

Among the acts scheduled for the Fair are organist, John La-Mothe; Shanghai Twins; The O-

Smith, Elizabeth Hagener, Lois Caldwell, Dorothy Jones, Audrey P. Bins, Naomi Markkille, Lee Utter, Leha Jaggers, Ted Coli, H. J. Haberacker.

Virginia — Ernest Spahn, Max Anderson, Ada White, Harold Hill-man, Shaw, Terwilliger, Stanley Whitley, Frances E. Dodds, Viola R. Beddingfield; Ashland—Mildred Viands, Ralph Warren, Evelyn Adams, Sue Doolin, Sara Jane Bristow, Raymond McGraw, B. W. Bierman; Chanderville — Glenn Sappington, W. E. Chapman, Eugene Hopper, B. W. Smith en-rolled all of the 54 life members except three, who had voluntarily enrolled previously to the Cass county drive.

Cass Teachers In NEA Capital Building Project

VIRGINIA—Local teachers are among the thousands of educators throughout the nation who have contributed funds to build a new education center in Washington, D. C., the $5,000,000 headquarters for the National Education Asso-ciation, which completes its 100th year in 1957. The new building is a Centennial project of the origi-nal teaching profession in America which dates from the time 43 edu-cators from 12 states met in 1857 in Philadelphia, to start what was then called the National Teach-ers' Association, now the NEA.

The building is located five blocks north of the White House and more than half of the building is completed and in use. Funds for the building are from contribu-tions of individuals and groups of teachers and from the sale of life memberships in NEA. The con-struction and campaign funds started in 1953, and pledged to cover the entire cost are now al-most filled, with completion of the building scheduled for 1958.

B. W. Smith, Cass county su-pintendent of schools, has been active during the past two years enrolling Cass county teachers as life members for $150 each, all of which will be used to cover the cost of the new building.

The following Cass county teach-ers have been enrolled as life NEA members: Beardstown—Ray-mond Gible, B. W. Smith, Clarice Brodman, F. O. Miller, Mildred Blank, W. L. Gard, T. O. Mc-Cullough, Howard Boes, George Conner, Katherine E. Smith, Irene Steiner, Doris Edwards, David McDonald, Eva Newell, Margabelle Boyd, Everette M. Ryan, Sharon T. Carls, Dorothea Piper, Opal Pate, George B. Boyd, Donald R. Barker, Neil Ingram, Martha Meyer, Richard Gartner, Alice Schnake, Leland Schnake, George

CHARGE GAIL RUSSELL WITH DRUNK DRIVING
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Gail Russell, 32, has been ar-raigned on a felony-drunk driving charge and sued for $75,000 dam-ages as a result of driving her new car through a cafe window July 4.

The suit was filed Monday by a janitor, Robert Reynolds, 21, who alleged he was seriously in-jured when pinned under her car while cleaning up the closed cafe.

Miss Russell was released on $1,000 bail.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Mail truck driver has been charged with mail embezzlement. Postoffice inspectors arrested the 44-year-old driver Monday and said he had stolen approximately 300 letters from the mails, remov-ing any cash he found in them. His name: Jesse James.

The U. S. Army has about 3-400 pieces of floating equipment, such as tubs, barges and cranes.

CHARGE GAIL RUSSELL WITH DRUNK DRIVING
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Gail Russell, 32, has been ar-raigned on a felony-drunk driving charge and sued for $75,000 dam-ages as a result of driving her new car through a cafe window July 4.

The suit was filed Monday by a janitor, Robert Reynolds, 21, who alleged he was seriously in-jured when pinned under her car while cleaning up the closed cafe.

Miss Russell was released on $1,000 bail.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Mail truck driver has been charged with mail embezzlement. Postoffice inspectors arrested the 44-year-old driver Monday and said he had stolen approximately 300 letters from the mails, remov-ing any cash he found in them. His name: Jesse James.

The U. S. Army has about 3-400 pieces of floating equipment, such as tubs, barges and cranes.

'Our American Cousin' Plays Kelso Hollow

PETERSBURG, Ill.—The second week at Kelso Hollow Theatre in New Salem State Park opens Wednesday night with "Our American Cousin." This is the play that Abraham Lincoln was viewing the night of his assassination.

Photos taken by the Army and other photographers were obtained from the Department of the Interior in order that the scenery and costumes used in the original production could be duplicated. The original 1859 script is used.

The play is a melodrama type production with many of the cliches current during the period when it was originally produced. There is the mustachioed blackguard of a villain who tries to force his attentions upon the pure as driven snow daughter of an English nobleman. But Asa Trenchard, the American cousin, arrives in time to foil the villain. There are other easily recognizable characters such as Lord Dundreary, the lovable buffoon. Mrs. Mountchessington, the social climber who spend all her waking time trying to marry off her two daughters, and many other stock characters.

It all adds up to an evening of delightfully light entertainment.

Lincoln Assassination Play

It was during the one thousandth and final performance of this play in Ford's Theater in Washington that Lincoln was assassinated. It was mid-way in the third act when Asa Trenchard was alone on stage that John Wilkes Booth seized the opportunity to enter Lincoln's box and fire his pistol at close range.

The exact point of the assassination was immediately after Asa says: "Don't know the manners of good society, eh? Well, I guess I know enough to turn you inside out, old gal—you sockdolager, old man—up." At this point during the production at Kelso Hollow Theatre, the stage lights will be dimmed momentarily.

Marshall Lipkin of Peoria will play the part of the homespun American boy, Asa Trenchard. In the role of his English cousin, Florence Trenchard, will be Doris Draege, Richview, Ill. This is the role played by Miss Laura Keane in the original production. Playing the lovable and addle brained Lord Dundreary will be C. V. Bennett of Carbondale, a graduate student in theatre at Southern Illinois University. Phyllis Ragsdale, Jackson, Tenn., a graduate student in theatre this summer, will play Mrs. Mountchessington. Miss Ragsdale will teach speech and English at Mt. Pulaski High School during the 1957-58 school year.

Appeals Court Orders Acquittal Of Cornell Prof

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals has reversed the contempt of Congress conviction of Marcus Singer, Cornell university zoology professor who refused to name onetime Communist associates.

The court, in throwing out Singer's conviction and ordering his acquittal, said its action was based on the Supreme Court's decision June 28 in the Watkins case.

The Court of Appeals took the action June 28 but its brief order was not made available until today after attorneys had been notified.

In throwing out Singer's conviction, the court set aside its own judgment of April 18, 1957, which had affirmed a lower court's verdict.

Singer was convicted by U. S. Dist. Judge Burnita S. Matthews who fined him $100 and gave him a suspended jail sentence of three months.

In the Watkins decision, the supreme court reversed the conviction of John T. Watkins, a labor organizer of Rock Island, Ill., who refused to identify persons he had known as Communists in the labor movement in the past.

Red Skelton's Stricken Son To Visit Pompeii

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Young Richard Skelton, suffering from leukemia, is off to see the ruins of Pompeii. That's the sight the famed comic's son most wants to see in Europe.

The Skelton family—Red, wife Georgia, daughter Valentina, 10, and Richard, 9—left by Scandinavian Airlines early today for Copenhagen. Bo Roos Sr., business manager for the comic, also went along.

"I just want Richard to see some of the great wonders of the world," Red told a reporter as his carrot-topped son played nearby as vigorously as any other boy his age.

The boy's illness is in the so-called remission stage where the cancerous blood cells apparently lie dormant.

The boy's doctor has pronounced him in the pink for the trip. Specialists in Copenhagen, Zurich and other European cities will give the boy checkups en route.

"Our main concern is to see that he does not become overly tired on the trip," Mrs. Skelton said. That, she added, is a big job even when the child is home.

The itinerary has been arranged so that all European hops will be short ones and the stays in the various countries leisurely.

Countries to be visited will include Denmark, Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, England, France, Italy, Spain, the island of Majorca, the Azores and, finally, Mexico City and home.

The trip will take approximately six weeks or longer. Plans to visit the Far East have been postponed. Richard's desire to visit Pompeii came about in typical small boy fashion. All last week, a local television station has been showing the old movie, "The Last Days of Pompeii."

Red said that his son watched it with childish fascination almost every night. The boy said he wanted to see the ruins and that was all his father needed.

3-Year Battle Over Thorne Estate Ends

CHICAGO (AP)—A three-year court battle over the $2,302,630 estate of Montgomery Ward Thorne has been formally ended. Terms signed Monday by Circuit Judge Charles S. Dougherty deducted $642,719 from the estate to effect a settlement, with the balance going to Mrs. Marion Thorne, mother of Montgomery Ward Thorne who died June 19, 1954.

Thorne's fiancée, Maureen Ragen, and her mother, Mrs. Aileen Ragen, were awarded a total of $242,150. His aunt, Mrs. Carol Lind, received $32,189. The other $348,389 was assigned to pay attorneys fees and other costs of the litigation.

Involved in the estate fight were two wills, one drawn in 1951 which left all of his property to his mother, and a later document, signed nine days before his death, under which the Ragens were named beneficiaries to three-fourths of the estate.

Mrs. Thorne had attacked validity of the 1954 will, charging the Ragens had used undue influence on her 20-year-old son to bring about revision of his will, cutting his mother's share to one eighth.

The settlement was a compromise under which terms of the earlier will apply, except for the awards to the Ragens and Mrs. Lind.

Stengel's American Leaguers Salvage 6-5 All-Star Win

Harry Grayson's SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—An old-fashioned bow-legged third baseman, Frank Malzone, is the principal reason why the Red Sox suddenly struck back and threatened to give the Yankees something in the way of a race.

To practically everybody but Mike Higgins, this is help from an unexpected source, but the patient manager insists that he is not surprised at Malzone drawing the raves that for 15 years were reserved for Ted Williams. Higgins has had implicit faith in Malzone—pronounced Mal-zone-ee—since he first spied the now 27-year-old in the Boston chain, you see, so takes his delayed outburst of base hits and runs-batted-in as a matter of course. Malzone, a product of the sidewalks of New York, is batting .333 while specializing in line drives and chasing so many runs across the plate that he is challenging for the major league lead.

Tom Yawkey gave away a million dollars in bonuses in five years, so it is ironic that Malzone, the only stand-up-and-cheer new face with the Sox, came free, gratis and for nothing. Cy Phillips, a bird dog, stumbled across the lad playing for Samuel Gompers High School in the Bronx. "We won the city championship," recalls Malzone, as though that was as big a kick as he has had to date. And all he ever wanted was the chance to play.

Higgins points out that Malzone, a stocky, sharply-featured Italian, was retarded by injuries, Army service and family tragedies. When Ted Williams returned from Korea and rejoined the Back Bay Millionaires in 1953, he asked Joe Cronin: "Say, who's that spaghetti-eater you got out in Hawaii?"

"You must mean Frankie Malzone," replied the general manager. "Yeah, that's his name—Malzone. I stopped in Honolulu on my way back and that's all I heard. Everybody was talking about Malzone. Must be a pretty good ballplayer."

Malzone batted .360 and .370 playing 60 games each season with an Army team in 1952 and '53.

"Frank still has plenty of speed, but he could fly before fracturing his ankle sliding into second base for Scantano of the Eastern League early in 1950," says Higgins. "Look at the record. He had 26 triples in 137 games with Oneonta of the Canadian-American League in 1949."

The fracture was a frightful one, similar to those suffered by Jeff Heath, Whitey Lockman and Bobby Thomson. The foot was turned completely around. It left Malzone's ankle curved like that of the gnarled Casey Stengel, made him even more bow-legged.

Malzone was shipped back to Louisville in 1955, when his ankle kicked up on him. He was due to make it big last year, but did not recover from the loss of a baby daughter and a brother-in-law.

"Malzone stands fairly close to the plate with a level swing," says Pinky Higgins. "I never saw a better third baseman. Take my word for it, he's here to stay."

So, now the Boston writers have someone to get excited about besides Ted Williams.

Minoso Jubilant Over Game-Saving Throw, Getting Winning Hit

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A jubilant Minnie Minoso, who thought he would have "a vacation" Tuesday but produced the winning run and a game-saving throw for the American League, may be the good luck charm Casey Stengel needs for All-Star games.

This was the first All-Star game for the 34-year-old Chicago White Sox outfielder since 1954—the last time the American League had won before Tuesday's 5-3 triumph.

"When the seventh inning came I think I'm going home vacation today," Minoso said. "It sure feels good for the American League to win again."

The speedy Cuban doubled home what proved to be the winning run in the American's three-run ninth.

Then with the National staging a ninth-inning rally, Minoso's perfect throw nipped Cincinnati's Gus Bell at third for the second out.

Except for Minoso, though, the American Leaguers weren't in a celebrating mood.

Casey Stengel used the sudden collapse of White Sox ace Billy Pierce in the ninth as a signal to resume his campaign for a rule barring the use of All-Star pitchers as starters immediately before the mid-season classic.

"Billy just got tired," Casey said. "And it's no wonder—he's just pitched Saturday."

A mention of Detroit Tiger Jim Bunning, the winning pitcher, brought a wink from Stengel.

Schoendienst Has Bad Day On And Off The Field

ST. LOUIS (AP)—On the field and off, Tuesday was a bad day for Red Schoendienst.

Playing second base in the All-Star game, the usually reliable redhead committed the contest's only error, which opened the gate for three runs in the ninth for the American League, 6-5 victors.

After the game Schoendienst, Milwaukee Braves second baseman, hurried to Union Station to catch a train.

He was almost there when Patrolman Floyd Tyner pulled him over to the curb and gave him a ticket for speeding 58 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone.

Schoendienst, former St. Louis Cardinals star, was given a summons to appear in Traffic Court here Aug. 13.

Alston Credits Loss To American League's Outstanding Pitching

By AL DOPKING

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"The outstanding thing about the American League All-Stars Tuesday was their pitching."

It was Manager Walter Alston talking in the dressing room of the National League All-Stars just after they had been beaten 6-5 by the Casey Stengel managed American Leaguers.

The National League players also were high in their praise of the American League pitching, particularly the job of starter Jim Bunning of Detroit.

The National Leaguers took the defeat without any outward signs of emotion. They poured into their dressing room quietly, most of them with little time to catch trains or planes back to their own teams to resume the hot pennant race.

They munched on box lunches, showered and took off. Alston defended his strategy in the ninth inning when the Nationals rallied for three runs and had the tying run on second only to have Dodger Gil Hodges, pinch-hitting for teammate Clem Labine, line out to Minnie Minoso in left field.

Minoso earlier had thrown out Gus Bell, who tried to go all the way to third from first on a single by Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs.

"I think Bell did the right thing," the quiet-spoken Alston said. "It would have been pretty nice to have that tying run on third base with only one out. I had wanted him to go for third if it looked like he had a chance."

"It took a perfect throw to get him and Minoso made it," Willie Mays, the New York Giants' speed merchant in center field, sized up the defeat quickly for all hands.

"They just got away from us early and we just couldn't catch up—but we tried."

SCORE SLATED TO BE AT ALTAR TODAY

BOYNTON BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Score, Cleveland Indians pitcher who suffered an eye injury in May when struck by a line drive, will be married here Wednesday to Miss Nancy McNamara of Atlanta.

The couple will make their home in Cleveland after a honeymoon trip which will end July 15. Score is to have an eye examination then to determine how soon he can return to baseball.

Moore's Title Bout To Receive Hearing Today

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The California Athletic Commission moved swiftly Tuesday to decide whether Archie Moore will defend his championship here Sept. 11.

The commission called a hearing at Sacramento Wednesday.

At least three established promoters in the state are expected to fight any application for a promoter's license by Frank Sinatra, the actor-singer, and his business advisor, Henry (Hank) Sanicola.

Clayton Frye, secretary of the commission, said that formal protests against a Sinatra-Sanicola license have been filed by the Hollywood Legion Stadium Club and San Francisco promoter Benie Ford.

The Olympic Boxing Club of Los Angeles has already verbally blasted the proposed promotion and will join in the formal protests at Sacramento.

The commission called the hearing after these developments: Moore and his manager, Charlie Johnston, and Anthony and his pilot, Ernie Braca, agreed to his 1956 performance, when his season's mark was 27-7. Roger Craig hasn't been pitching badly, although his record is 3-5.

One bright spot is young Danny McDevitt, brought up from St. Paul in mid-June. He's won three while losing one. Don Drysdale also has been pitching well, better than his 6-6 record might indicate.

So this is the pitching staff which Birdie Tebbetts earlier in the season rated strong enough to give the Bums an edge in the pennant race.

They still may do it, but the tougher days are ahead of them. And also the Cardinals, Braves, Phillies and Cincinnati.

Sports Trail

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP)—The defending champions currently are in the second division in the National League race, and if this situation continues Los Angeles and Brooklyn will be flipping a coin to see which gets the Dodgers. The loser will get them.

The team just isn't the team which won the pennant in a squeaker last year, and although it has been plagued by bad luck in the pitching department the fact remains some of the players have been suddenly caught old.

And as if that wasn't bad enough they are importing age to fill the gaps in the lineup.

Bob Kennedy will be 37 next month. Elmer Valo is 36. But they started the second game of the double header of the Phillies Sunday.

If you were picking the Dodgers to win the pennant this year on the basis of their lineup which played the final game of the World Series last fall, you have been surprised no little.

Here is the World Series lineup: Gilliam 2b; Reese ss; Snider cf; Robinson 3b; Hodges 1b; Amoros if; Furillo rf; Campanella c.

Here is the lineup which started the second half of Sunday's double header: Gilliam 2b; Amoros if; Snider cf; Valo rf; Neal ss; Hodges 1b; Walker c; Kennedy p.

The holdovers are Gilliam, Amoros, Snider and Hodges. Jackie Robinson is gone. Peeewe Reese and Carl Furillo are suffering the aches and pains of the years, and must be rested. Roy Campanella is finding double headers almost more than he can bear.

But even with these changes the Dodgers wouldn't be five games back if the pitching staff had held up. It has developed more troubles than a kid playing hooky.

Johnny Podres, winning from an aching shoulder, didn't pitch from June 16 to July 5, and last Sunday made his first start in a month.

Carl Erskine and Sandy Koufax both came up with sore arms, and Erskine didn't pitch in a game until June 15. Koufax was out of action from June 4 to June 27. Sal Maglie was out of action from May 30 until July 2.

Clem Labine, the ace reliever, has been worked to death. With the season only half over he's pitched in 34 games, and probably that has something to do with the fact he won his third game May 15 and hasn't won a game since, while losing five.

There has been nothing wrong with large Don Newcombe as far as is known, but his record of 8-6 stacks up very poorly with season's mark was 27-7. Roger Craig hasn't been pitching badly, although his record is 3-5.

One bright spot is young Danny McDevitt, brought up from St. Paul in mid-June. He's won three while losing one. Don Drysdale also has been pitching well, better than his 6-6 record might indicate.

SUBSTITUTE DOCTOR

By ELIZABETH SEIFERT

XXXI

GARDE stepped forward; firmly his hand took Nan's bare, brown arm, firmly he drew her closely to his side so that she must go with him down the steps, through the hedge and around to where his car sat halfway into the garage. He put her into the right-hand seat, pressed his spare handkerchief into her hand, got under the wheel, backed out of the drive, carefully missing one of the cars on its way to the club, and whirled away down the street, all done too quickly for Nan really to have the hysterics which threatened her.

"Don't talk!" It was an order. He smiled at her, then turned his attention again to the road. He himself had been badly shaken by Valley's little stunt, and when they reached the club and he surrendered his car to the attendant, Garde's face was still grim with his knowledge that now he must do everything he could to clear Lillard.

He went around to Nan's door. He must dig up the hedge. He took his handkerchief and put it back into his hip pocket. He must talk to Lillard's lawyer. He put his hand on Nan's arm and told her to watch the gravel. He must have a real talk with Valley.

He indicated the basement door of the club, meaning that by that way Nan could slip up the back stairs to the powder room. "I'll meet you . . ." She smiled at him and departed. Garde strode around the build-ing to the front door. He must talk to old Dr. Lillard—who couldn't talk.

It took him—and Nan, he sup-posed—a bit of adjustment to come into the lighted, noisy club house. The hall and lounge swarmed with gayly dressed people, the orchestra played sen-suously in the ball room, and couple were dancing even on part of the veranda—laughter and talk rose like particled balloons.

They danced and danced. But of course Garde had occasionally to surrender Nan to one of the other men. He danced one with the McManus house guest, but generally he stood at the edge of the dance floor and watched Nan.

At the end of that dance, Frank McManus signaled to Garde that he and Nan were to join his group for supper. There were a score of kindred souls at the big table, the men from the clinic and their wives, the Mar-quarts, the Rosses, the Cope-lands . . .

IT was great fun, all this non-sense and laughter, this air of mutual liking—to be a part of a group like this. Garde caught himself being aware of his hap-piness. "One of the happiest hours of my life," he told him-self.

He was included in plans being made—with some vying for his service if not for his company. "He can't help you with your pool before September," Dewey Windsor was telling like Kibbler. "There's still a month's work on our patio."

But even with this catlike contentment warning his blood, it was a surprise, a shock really, when Bill Marquart, the commo-dore of the club, came around

Conflicting Traffic Laws Are Like License To Kill

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Just crossing a state line in your car this vacation could make you a dangerous, potential highway killer.

But don't worry about it. Your out-of-state license tag gives you special privilege to menace the lives of others on the road.

This bit of frightening sarcasm—unfortunately true—is now being studied by a congressional committee investigating highway safety. It was offered by Irving S. Markel, a highway safety engineer and a crusader for uniform traffic laws among the states.

He is traffic safety consultant to firms which operate more than 100,000 trucks.

But he's also emotionally involved in the problem. Normally a relaxed individual, he gets red in the face, pounds the table and shouts on the subject of the needless highway death toll because of conflicting, weak traffic laws among the states.

"In Virginia, for example, two non-parking traffic convictions gets your license automatically suspended," Markel says.

"Yet a person from a state without that law, with a half-dozen speeding convictions and rated unfit to be behind a wheel, can drive all over Virginia," he explains.

He explains another highway hazard resulting from no uniform traffic laws:

"Less than 25 states have compulsory vehicle inspections with the result that mechanically dangerous cars will be on roads all over the country. The lives of people driving in safe or inspected cars on their vacations this summer will be seriously endangered by this situation."

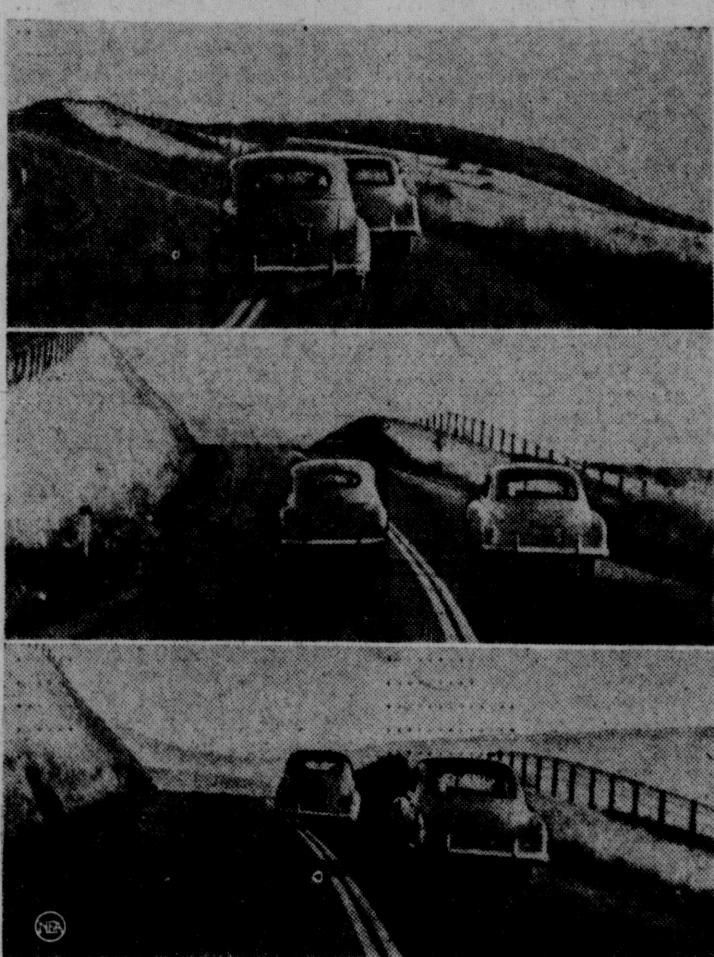

He's most vehement about conflicting state laws permitting youngsters to drive:

"Children of 14 or 15 can drive in some states, but they don't have the maturity to drive carefully."

"Children aren't allowed to carry weapons, but what more dangerous weapon is there than a ton or two of steel under the control of a child who can hurtle along at a high speed simply by pressing his foot down?"

He favors a nation-wide minimum age of 18 for drivers.

Markel supports the work of the National Committee on Uniform Traffic Laws and Ordinances, a group which resulted from a White House conference on highway safety. But he would go beyond the group's method which is encouraging voluntary passage of uniform laws. He favors federal legislation forcing states to adopt a uniform code.

POTENTIAL KILLER IN ACTION: In these sequence photos the Markel Safety Camera captures a perfect example of how NOT to pass another car—(1) crossing double white line, (2) passing on a hill and (3) passing on a curve.

He wants to tie the code to the big federal road building program and have it administered by a Highway Safety Division within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Creation of such an agency is proposed in a bill sponsored by Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.).

A little more than half of the uniform code recommendations of the NCTLO have been made into laws by the states.

Based on his work with trucking firms, which includes the rigid enforcement of uniform safety rules, Markel believes the only solution to cutting the nation's traffic toll is federal legislation to force a uniform code on the states.

"Anything short of that is a farce," he claims.

One of Markel's contributions to traffic safety is a special camera mounted on car which takes pictures of driving violations. The speed of the offending car and the time of day automatically show on the picture. He uses the device to keep the drivers of his trucking clients in line.

Periodic physical exams and absolute maximum of 45 mph are among the rules he enforces on his clients. He has their accident rate down to half of that for general commercial vehicles.

He thinks 50 mph is a safe maximum speed for passenger cars on a two-lane road, with 60 mph as the maximum on turnpikes.

He also thinks that there should be a minimum of 40 mph enforced on highways and that the maximum driving age is 65. He would have persons over 65 get yearly permission from a physician to continue driving.

FLORENCE REICHERT, C. GABRIEL TO WED

NEW BERLIN — Mr. and Mrs. John Reichert are announcing the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Florence, to Carl Gabriel. The wedding will be solemnized Saturday, June 20, at 9 a.m. in St. Mary's Church in New Berlin.

The Canary Islands were named for their many large dogs from the Latin "canis" for "dog."

Dog Thieves On Prowl Again In Jersey County

JERSEYVILLE — Dog thieves are active again in the Jersey county locality. Steve Scott who recently moved from Fieldon route two to a new residence at Jerseyville route two north of this city reported the loss of a pure bred black and tan coon hound during the week.

Scott valued the dog highly because of its breeding and stated the hound would have been two years old in November.

The thefts of hunting dogs usually increase in the Jersey county area six weeks to two months in advance of the opening of the annual hunting season.

Investigation several years ago of dog thefts in this part of the state uncovered a regular ring of thieves who were transporting hunting dogs stolen in this part of Illinois south into Kentucky and Tennessee where they were sold.

Much Jersey Land Won't Be Planted

JERSEYVILLE — The present wet season has placed more farmland in retirement in Jersey county for the current season in the National Soil Bank program.

There are large acreages in the county that remain too wet for planting in corn and soybeans. There is still some time for soybeans with a slight chance for the 90 day maturing corn, but most farmers have forgotten corn and are concentrating on a final drive at planting some additional acres in soybeans.

But there are hundreds of acres that cannot be plowed in time for the latter crop and will probably be plowed some time this summer and gotten into wheat and winter barley next fall.

Plantings of red clover that were made in February or March in wheat and winter barley fields is the best in years.

PATTERSON NURSE ENDS ARMY COURSE

PORT SAM HOUSTON, Tex.—(AHTNC)— Army Nurse (First Lt.) Marjorie E. Dawly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Dawly, Patterson, Ill., recently was graduated from the military medical orientation course at the Army Medical Service School, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

The course, designed for newly commissioned medical officers and nurses, stressed medical service in combat.

Lieutenant Dawly has received orders assigning her to Fitzsimons Army Hospital, Denver.

Researchers Propose Strong Shelter System To Survive Massive Atom Attack

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—What can you do to survive a massive atomic attack?

Would you be safer fleeing from densely populated areas, away from strategic targets; or would your best bet be to stake your life on a scientifically designed shelter system?

Researchers at the Naval Radiological Defense Laboratory here have come up with a carefully integrated survival system in which strong shelters play a vital part. They have studied the problem for years and say that theirs is the "only workable approach."

They call it the "radiological recovery system."

"All of our study has left us no alternative but this," said Capt. Richard S. Mandelkorn, Naval officer in charge of the laboratory, "and national planners seem to be coming around to our way of thinking."

Since 1946, when the Navy established the laboratory to find out how to decontaminate ships used in the H-bomb test at Bikini, its staff of 300 scientists, aided by as many technicians, administrative and military personnel, has spent about five million dollars a year studying the effects of nuclear devices. Much of the research is top secret.

"We know what must be done to successfully meet a mass atomic attack," Mandelkorn said, emphasizing that his opinions do not necessarily represent Navy Department policy.

"The old run and hide in the hills idea is out. As far as this laboratory is concerned, evacuations are of little or no value because, in a mass attack, nobody can predict fallout-free locations in which to take refuge."

"With the fallout pattern as extensive as it would be in a nuclear attack, fleeing people might well find themselves in an area where radioactive fallout would be deadly—yet many miles from where the bombs burst."

"The fallout pattern from atomic weapons, of the type we can expect even at this time, makes it likely that the only safe locations anywhere would be in the shelters."

AERIAL ROUNDUP—Cowboys took to the airways to herd hundreds of storm-stranded cattle out of the waterlogged marshes of Cameron (La.) Parish in the aftermath of Hurricane Audrey. Occasionally the 'cattle' cowboys resorted to "Operation Cattlelift" to remove some of the stranded cattle, particularly calves. The animals were picked up in rope slings (above) and transported to the nearest highway. Ranchers reported several hundred head had been saved by the use of the helicopters.

Experts consider it highly improbable that any nation making an intercontinental nuclear attack on the United States would think of using anything but its most destructive bombs.

Mandelkorn said that "At a cost of around three billion dollars, spent over a period of four to five years, 100 million Americans could be assured of a good chance of survival."

"And by investing $20 billions over a period of years in the shelter system, practically the entire population of the country should be protected," he added.

The radiological recovery system contemplates shelters that will house 100 or more persons. They would cost the government from $3,000 to $6,000, depending on the type and size.

While the multi-billion dollar cost of this proposed system has given national planners concern, scientists here believe that by using dual-purpose structures, tying in the shelter system with subway projects, underground parking facilities, warehouses and similar spacious, sturdy construction, cost might be minimized.

CONSTIPATED?

New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks without gag, bloat or gripe

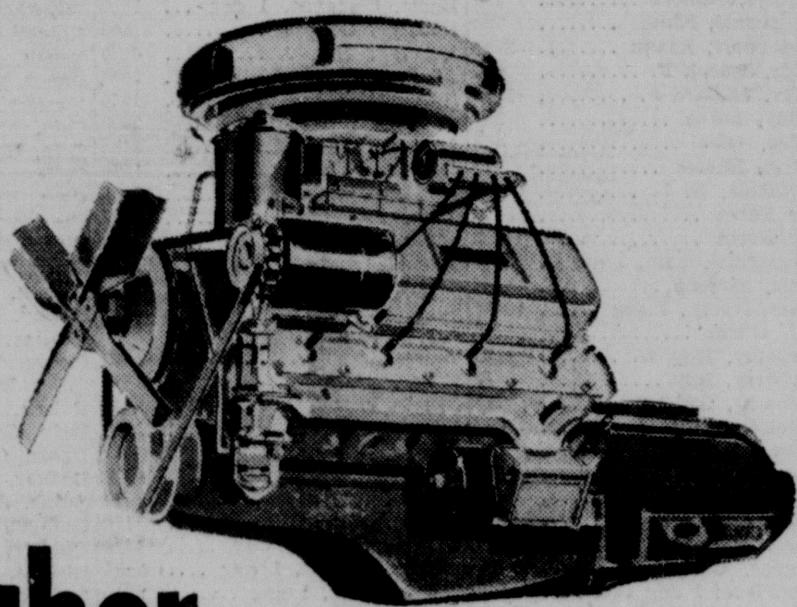

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge. And, of all laxatives, only COLONAX, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAX's great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAX's stretching bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAX is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Superior to old style bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAX neither gags, bloats nor gripe; won't interfere with absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other reactions.

It's a physiological fact: Exercise tones your body! And COLONAX exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Get COLONAX, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! Only 96c for the 60 tablet package, brings positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

I'm paying less per kilowatt hour?

Yes, but your total service bill is probably higher

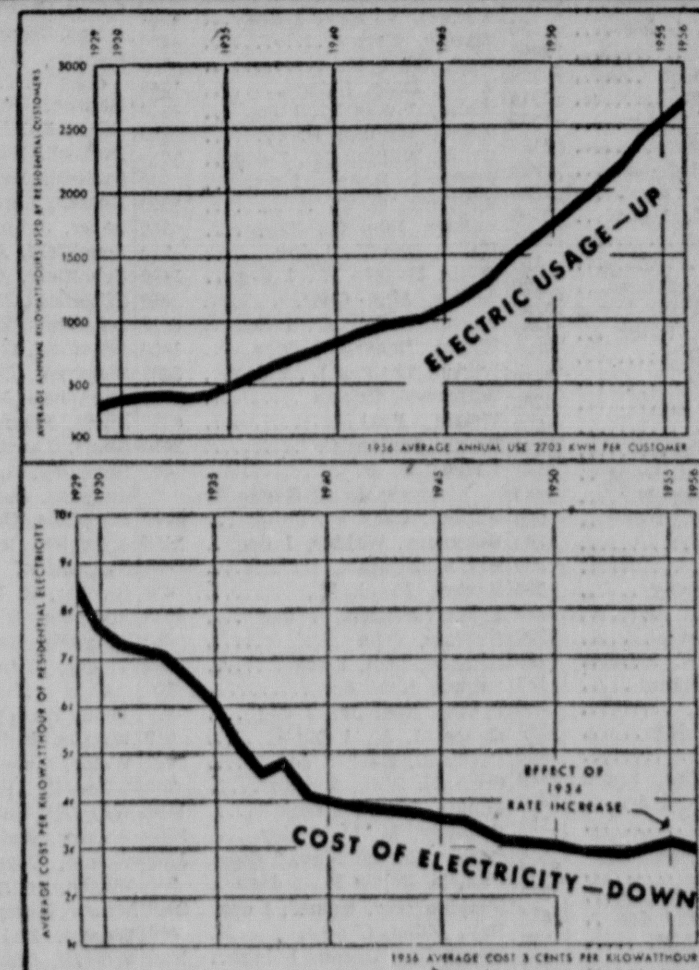

Ten years ago our residential customers paid an average of 3.52 cents for a kilowatt hour of electricity. Today, they pay an average cost of only 3.09 cents... which is 12% less... despite the rate increase in 1954!

Most residential customers have more than doubled their annual use. Consequently, almost all electric service bills are higher, although the average amount paid per kilowatt hour is less.

When you consider these facts:

- (1) the amount paid for a kilowatt hour of electricity is down 12%
- (2) the use of electricity has more than doubled in the last 10 years

Your electric service is one of today's greatest values.

Cairo Mansion To Be Latest State Museum

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Governor William G. Stratton has signed into law a bill which establishes the Rendleman House in Cairo as a historical museum depicting the history of the Mississippi river and its tributaries.

The mansion was built in 1865 by William Parker Halliday, a Cairo businessman with sentimental memories of his days as a river boat captain, who incorporated a number of reminders of the river into the home.

Donated to the state by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Grieve, the house has many outstanding architectural features, including a small theater complete with stage, proscenium arch, footlights and backdrop.

Mrs. Grieve is the former Adelaide Rendleman, daughter of Dr. J. J. Rendleman who purchased the home in 1901 and from whom she inherited the property.

Located on the north side of Cairo, the house is situated on three acres of landscaped grounds. A small fountain graces the grounds which are shaded by Chinese magnolias and Ginkgos.

Among the many flowers and shrubs planted there is a patch of bamboo where the Gries have been growing their own fishing poles.

Cheerful Seniors Pick Candidate For 4-H Queen

Plans for the radio program, the Home Bureau meeting and 4-H Queen contest at the county fair were discussed Monday when the Cheerful Seniors 4-H club met with Beverly Murphy.

The pledge was led by Juanita Birdsell and roll call was answered by "My Favorite Lipstick."

Rita Armstrong was chosen the club's candidate for queen of the county fair.

Talks were given by Beverly Murphy, "Treating Burns," and Ann Spreddin, "Treating Burns and Sunburns." A demonstration, "Marking a Pattern," was given by Cora Bridgeman.

During the social hour Juanita Birdsell and Nancy Stocker sang "When You Were a Tulip." Refreshments of cookies, cup cakes and iced tea were served by the hostess.

Miss Williamson, Morgan Resident 88 Years, Dies

Miss Nettie Williamson, a lifetime resident of Morgan county, died at ten o'clock Monday night at the Carson Nursing Home in the city where she had been cared for the past eight years.

For a number of years Miss Williamson lived at Franklin before coming to Jacksonville. She was born in the Ebenezer community March 11, 1869, the daughter of John S. and Martha Moss Williamson and was one of eleven children. Of that family only a brother, Earl Williamson of Belleville, survives. There are also six nieces and four nephews.

Miss Williamson was a member of the Franklin Methodist church. The body was taken to the Williamson funeral home where services will be held at two o'clock Thursday afternoon. Burial will be made in the Moss cemetery, northwest of the city.

Waverly Legion 2 Day Picnic To Be July 11 And 12

WAVERLY — Wednesday and Thursday, July 11 and 12, will be the annual American Legion picnic in Waverly. The American Beauty Show, coming here from Rushville began moving in the Satter Park by Saturday night and others came Monday.

The American Legion and Waverly Lions Club will have food stands on the grounds all week. Free entertainment will be provided both nights of the picnic.

The Waverly High school band will give a concert beginning at 7 p.m. both nights.

Amateur talent will appear on the stage both nights. The top judged amateurs providing entertainment will be awarded Savings Bonds in $50 and $25 denominations.

Last Friday was the last date for filing entries for the above entertainments.

State To Check Speedometers For Public Wednesday

Motorists in the Jacksonville area may have their car speedometers checked for accuracy through the courtesy of the State Police Wednesday State Police Radar units will be stationed throughout the state.

Three State Police cars and patrolmen will be located in this area just north of the Jacksonville city limits on route 67. They will accommodate cars from 10 o'clock in the morning until one in the afternoon.

The testing takes only a few minutes. Testing will be done only upon request of the motorists who will be under no obligation. Literature will be passed out to each motorist taking the test. Cars will be tested for accuracy at a forty mile per hour speed.

Test areas will be marked by signs reading, "State Police Speedometer Check Ahead."

Announcement of the service to motorists was made by State Police Chief William H. Morris, whose office notified the Jacksonville Courier Tuesday of the location for the free testing.

Mangles Elbow When Car Strikes Forest Bridge

PITTSFIELD — Richard Bess, 32, Pleasant Hill, employed by Coudas Brothers of Winchester, underwent surgery Tuesday morning at Illinois Hospital here, on a badly mangled elbow injured when his car reportedly struck the Forest Bridge about six miles east of Detroit Monday evening.

Bess managed to drive his car until he reached Detroit where he lost control of it and finally stopped in the yard of Leland Williams.

Police reported paint samples of Bess' car and particles of his arm were found on the wrong side of the Forest Bridge, indicating that Bess was not driving on his side of the road. At the time he was taken to the hospital he was incoherent and insisted that he had been side-swiped.

Bess, who manages a farm for Coudas Brothers in Calhoun County, was taken to the hospital by the Platteville ambulance shortly after 10:30 p.m.

State Patrolman Milton Juenger, in charge at the accident, reportedly stated that Bess would be charged with drunken driving.

Methodist Class Entertained By Original Playlet

The Opportunity Class of the Grace Methodist Church met Monday, July 8, at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. W. E. Hall, 1701 South Diamond street, with Mrs. Olive Osborne as assisting hostess.

Mr. John Reardon presided, calling the meeting to order with prayer. The secretary and treasurer's reports were given. Mrs. Persis Gillham gave devotion, telling of women honored in Israel and stating that it was a long time before women could be ordained, and then only by liberal denominations.

Mrs. Edgar Martin, program chairman, introduced Robert Weghoff, who rendered several selections on the piano. A playlet, "Looking Ahead Twenty Years Hence," written by Mrs. Ammetta Scott was enacted. The scene was a group of four women sitting in a living room reminiscing about the members of the Opportunity Class.

Those in the play were Mrs. Effie Lee Williamson, Mrs. Stella Reardon, Mrs. Ammetta Scott and Mrs. Katie Kruse.

The meeting concluded with the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," with Mrs. Martin and Robert Weghoff at the piano.

A social period followed with duets by the pianists and informal group singing. The hostess served refreshments from a table decorated with lemon lilies. Mrs. William Cocking of Houston, Texas, served at the punch bowl. There were 26 members present. The next meeting will be held in September.

ILLEGAL VOTER FINALLY GETS RIGHT TO VOTE

CHICAGO — An 83-year-old suburban Winnetka man, who first cast a ballot in 1896 and voted illegally every year until 1940, no longer has any worries. He became an American citizen Tuesday.

And the first thing William C. Marchant told the Federal District Court Judge was: "I sure am looking forward to voting again."

Marchant, a retired electrician said he had voted because he assumed that service in the Illinois National Guard from 1890 to 1893 made him a citizen. But when he registered as an alien in 1940, naturalization officials corrected that assumption.

His parents brought Marchant from London to Chicago in 1879 but his father neglected to have the family naturalized.

BETSY APPLEBEE LEAVES FOR SWITZERLAND

Fourteen year old Betsy Applebee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wadsworth Applebee of this city, in company with her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Forrer, 1786 Mound avenue, left Tuesday for Europe where the Jacksonville teenager will spend a year at the International School in Geneva, Switzerland.

Betsy's grandparents moved to Jacksonville about a year ago from Kansas City, Mo. The trio left Chicago by train for Montreal, Canada and from Canada will board the Corinthia, on the Cunard Line, for the six day crossing, landing at Liverpool, England.

For nine days they will tour England, Scotland, and Wales before crossing the Channel to visit Belgium, the Netherlands and Germany, and thence on into Switzerland. In Geneva they will be guests of the Forrer's niece and Betsy's second cousin, Mrs. David Efron and family. Mr. Efron, a native Argentinean, is associated with the United Nations labor organization. Mrs. Efron is a native of the state of Michigan.

The Forrers will tour Europe for five months before returning to the States in December.

Betsy will be enrolled in the International School that opens Sept. 15th. Her school year there is equivalent to a freshman year in high school here. The school year at Geneva runs somewhat differently than in this country. Students attend classes from Sept. 15 to Dec. 1st; have a month's vacation; resume studies Jan. 1st until Easter; enjoy a two weeks vacation after which classes are held until mid-July.

Betsy's application to enter the school was one of many and was supported well by her honor roll standing in Turner Junior High here and her outside activities, one of which was cheer leading during her junior high days.

Mrs. John Gordon Dies In Seattle Monday, July 1

WINCHESTER — The Gillham families of Winchester have received word of the death of their aunt, Mrs. John B. Gordon of Seattle, Wash., on Monday, July 1, following a brief illness. Her husband, the late Judge John B. Gordon, preceded her in death twenty-five years ago.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Raymond Frye and Mrs. James Farrell, four grandchildren and several great-grandchildren, all of Seattle. Mrs. W. W. Gillham and Mrs. J. L. Gillham of Jacksonville, are sisters-in-law.

Beside the Gillham nieces and nephews of Winchester and Jacksonville, others include the Edgar Gordon family, Mrs. Harry Coultas of Lynnville, Miss Edna Johnson, Jacksonville, and Raymond and Richard Vasey, Jacksonville.

Before her marriage she taught in the high schools of Ashland and Winchester. She was the last member of the family of Judge William A. Gillham and had celebrated her 92nd birthday on last March 12th. Judge and Mrs. Gordon spent their entire married life in Seattle, going there sixty-four years ago, where Judge Gordon presided as municipal judge in Seattle for over thirty years, until suddenly stricken while acting in his official capacity.

Both Judge and Mrs. Gordon were members of two of the oldest families of Morgan and Scott Counties.

James O. Guyer Dies In Moline

Word has been received in this city by his sister of the death of James O. Guyer Monday at 5:35 p.m. at his home in Moline. He was 70 years old.

Surviving are his mother, Mrs. Carrie Guyer of Riggsport; his sister, Mrs. Minnie Hitt, 310 E. College, this city and his wife, Ruby and one son, Duane in Moline.

A sister, Mrs. Bessie Piper of Quincy and his father, James E. Guyer, preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday from the Eastern Funeral Home in Moline with burial to be in Dayton cemetery.

Mrs. Hitt, her daughter, Mrs. Carroll Rexroat and Mrs. Carrie Guyer, who is 92 years of age, plan to attend the services Wednesday and return to this city Thursday.

Winchester O.E.S. Holds Guest Night

WINCHESTER — Mrs. Muriel Crader, of Alton, Ill., served as Guest Matron, and Harrison Crader, of Alton, Ill., served as Guest Patron, at the meeting of the Eastern Star held Monday night, July 8, at which time guest worthy matrons and worthy patrons filled the stations. Mr. and Mrs. Crader are W.M. and W.P. of Pleasant Hill Chapter of the Eastern Star.

Other guests and members filling the stations included Mrs. Margaret Chambers, Bluffs, Associate Matron; Oliver Chambers, Bluffs, Associate Patron; Mrs. Imogene Chipman, Winchester, Secretary; Myron Tedrow, Perry, Treasurer; Mrs. Kathryn Hoskins, Pittsfield, Conductress; Mrs. Mary Tedrow, Perry, Associate Conductress; Mrs. Gladys Turnbull, Griggsville, Chaplain; Mrs. Julia Merriman, Winchester, Marshal; Frank Turnbull, Griggsville, Organist; Mrs. Hallie Evans, Winchester, Adah; Ruth Hall, Esther; Mrs. Mary Daniels, Hillview, Maria; Mrs. Mae Chambers, Bluffs, Electa; William Chambers, Bluffs, Warder; William McCarthy, White Hall, Sentinel; and Fred Robinson, Winchester, Color Bearer.

Mrs. Faye Sutton, Worthy Matron, presided over the business session and welcomed the guests from neighboring chapters.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served in the dining room by the committee which included Mrs. Lillian Coultas, Mrs. Mary Watt, Mrs. Bernadine Corrie, Mrs. Virginia Montgomery, Mrs. Emma Bean, Mrs. Mary Gillham and Mrs. Rhoda Reid.

Douglas County Deputy Sheriff David Rice of Tuscola and State Policeman Robert Riley assisted at the scene of the accident. The Douglas County sheriff's office said that there is a strong possibility that the third car involved but unidentified was at fault in the accident.

Bernard Timmons was born June 21, 1930, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Timmons of Waverly. He was employed at the General Cable Company in Monticello and was returning home in a heavy rainstorm at the time of the accident.

He is survived by his wife, Carolyn Ann Nesbit Timmons, an infant son, and a brother, Stanley Timmons.

The body was taken to the Neece Funeral Home in Waverly where services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Burial will be in the Waverly cemetery.

Prosecutors said Sims was employed by the University of Chicago in May 1936 and had previously been a hospital employee at Jacksonville, Ill.

They said a list of 18 women employed at the university was found in Sim's room after his arrest. Police said the man referred to the list as his "future book" of women he intended to assault.

Prosecutors said that after his arrest April 22 Sims related strangling Mrs. Johnson but later denied it.

Janitor Draws 199 Years Prison For Rape-Slaying

CHICAGO — A janitor at the University of Chicago Tuesday was sentenced to 199 years in prison for the rape-slaying of a 62-year-old housewife.

George Sims, 29-year-old Negro, was convicted of strangling Mrs. Jeannie Johnson in her South Side apartment April 2. Mrs. Johnson is white. Sims pleaded innocent, claiming he was at work when Mrs. Johnson was raped and slain.

Judge Harold P. P'Connell termed the slaying "a vicious crime" and said there were no mitigating circumstances in favor of the defendant. A series of burglary and assault charges against Sims were dismissed by Judge O'Connell after his conviction.

Prosecutors said Sims was employed by the University of Chicago in May 1936 and had previously been a hospital employee at Jacksonville, Ill.

They said a list of 18 women employed at the university was found in Sim's room after his arrest. Police said the man referred to the list as his "future book" of women he intended to assault.

Plan Annual School Here For Methodist Youth Instructors

Instructors and student teachers will work together in actual sessions with children and youth at the 17th annual Illinois Conference laboratory school at MacMurray College, July 14-19.

Sponsored by the Illinois Conference Board of Education, in cooperation with Jacksonville Methodist churches, the school provides an opportunity to discuss and evaluate methods used and principles involved in teaching and in other forms of activity in this field.

Those attending the six-day meet will be teachers of nursery, kindergarten, primary and junior children. Attending also will be Children's Division and Department superintendents, Secretaries of Children's Work of the Woman's Society of Christian Service, workers with intermediate and senior high youth, and pastors and others interested in improving the church school.

Registration for this conference can be made by correspondence with Mrs. Ruth W. Junk, 1204 North Prairie, Bloomington, Ill. This includes a fee of $27 for student teachers, and $6 for commuters. Only high school graduates, or those 18 years of age or older, may enroll as student teachers.

Sessions will be held Sunday at Centenary Methodist church, Monday at Brooklyn church, Tuesday and Wednesday at Grace church, and again Thursday at Centenary.

Experienced Instructors
Instructing in the nursery course will be Mrs. Stanley P. Wiese, director of Children's Work, Illinois Conference; in kindergarten, Mrs. Leo Pigage, children's worker, First Methodist church, Champaign; primary, Mrs. Cedric Powell, children's worker, Methodist church, Roseville; junior, Mrs. Elmer P. Frohardt, director of Children's Work, Southern Illinois Conference.

In the intermediate youth division, Mrs. Myrtle Immer, director of intermediate work, Minnesota Conference, will instruct; in senior high will be Mrs. Lou Hilbert, director of the Youth Department of the Iowa area.

School Administration
Church school administration will be taught by Dr. Charles H. Thrall, department of Religion, Illinois Wesleyan University. The director of this will be Dr. Robert C. Calderwood, executive secretary, Illinois Conference board of education. Supervisor will be Miss Martha L. Bussert, associate executive secretary, Illinois Conference Board of Education.

This year's emphasis with student teachers will be "Music in Christian Teaching." Further information concerning the "emphasis," schedule, living arrangements, evening activities, etc., will be given after arrival at the school.

Winchester — Mrs. Minnie Laura Stuart Bowman of Alsey died at 6:25 p.m. Monday at Passavant Hospital, where she had been a patient since June 10.

Mrs. Bowman was born in Alsey Nov. 18, 1865, the daughter of Charles and Ann Blackburn Stuart. She married Dr. George W. Bowman July 16, 1885 in Alsey. He preceded his wife in death in August, 1946.

Survivors include two sons, Irvin Bowman of Hillview and George B. Bowman of Brownsville, Texas; two grandsons, W. S. Bowman of Alsey and Bernard L. Bowman of Hillview, and three great grandchildren.

One son, Dr. Charles Stuart Bowman, died in 1931. Four brothers and five sisters also preceded Mrs. Bowman in death.

The deceased was a lifetime resident of Alsey and a member of the Alsey Baptist Church. The body was taken to the Cunningham Funeral Home and will be removed to the Alsey residence Wednesday where friends may call after 3 p.m.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 Thursday afternoon at the Alsey Baptist church with the Rev. Richard Shewmaker in charge. Burial will be made in the Bowman cemetery.

Farewell Party Honors Store Manager, Wife

A surprise farewell party was held recently in honor of Donald Allen. Mr. Allen was assistant manager at the S. S. Kresge store. He and his wife are now making their home at Cameron, Mo., where he will now be employed by the National Life Insurance Co., in Cameron.

Guests were Catherine Doyle, Frances Ruble, Kay Williamson, Mable Green, Irene Garner, Mildred DeOnnellas, Ileana Gilpin, Carol Proffitt, Rita Smith, Elsie Hopkins, Myrtle Mason, Shirley Hill, Corolotta Strubbe, Elda Staake, Joanne Martin, Mary Ward and Mildred Evans, all employees of the Kresge store, and Melba Montgomery, Mrs. Allen's sister.

Refreshments of cake and punch were served.

Former Bond Co. Resident Dies At Hospital Here

Lloyd Davis, 81 year old former Greenville man who has been cared for at the Duncan Nursing Home, 606 North Church street, died at Passavant hospital at 12:20 Tuesday morning where he had been a patient since July 1st.

Mr. Davis is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Nina Burns, Clinton, Ill. The body was taken to the Donalds funeral home in Greenville.

Visits State of Virginia

Mrs. Hilda Barnes, 455 South East street, returned last week from Falls Church, Virginia where she spent the past two weeks visiting her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Edwards and Linda and Greg.

Pennell Barber & Beauty Shop

Now located 102 N. East St. off corner of E. State.

ASSESSMENT ROLL FOR 1937

The following is a list of personal property together with the amounts of the assessments as made by Kohl Perich, supervisor of assessments of Morgan County.

The assessed values herein shown are subject to revision by the Board of Review and to equalization by the Department of Revenue. Section 146 of the Revenue Act 1939, provides that the Department shall lower or raise the total assessed value of property in any county so that such property will be assessed at its full, fair cash value.

This publication (made in accordance with Section 103 of the Revenue Act, 1939) serves as a public notice to the taxpayers of the county of the assessed values fixed upon their property by the township assessors, or supervisor of assessments.

Taxpayers who consider their property incorrectly assessed may appear before the Board of Review and file a complaint in writing according to Section 108 of the Revenue Act 1939.

Murrayville MYF Holds Guest Night

MURRAYVILLE — The Junior MYF of the Methodist church had guest night last Sunday. Following the usual business meeting and choir practice, games were played. Refreshments of lemonade and cookies were served.

The committee in charge was Norma Smock, Darryl McKnelly, and Cynthia Seed. Joel Million received the prize of a book for bringing the most guests.
